FACULTY

President of Columbia University

Michael I. Sovern,
L.L.B., L.L.D.

Vice President for Health Sciences and Dean of the Faculty of Medicine

Each of you has completed challenging and strenuous, yet also exciting years at P&S, among the finest medical schools in this country. On this high achievement you are to be warmly congratulated. We have prepared you well, if we have taught you to expect and welcome change, to be prepared for current knowledge becoming obsolete, and to know how to keep up with progress and acquire new knowledge. Although not part of the formal curriculum, I hope that you have sensed, how much the world of the physician is changing, how much greater are the public's expectations of a physician for high professional and personal standards and lifestyle. I hope you have found role models among the faculty, models which will help you in preserving what must be constants of the profession and in seeking roots in tradition while setting the pace for the future. Both in science as in clinical practice, the physician succeeds by keeping up with new knowledge, forever curious and with a flair for spotting the unusual and unexpected, letting the patient have the benefits of those advances, which have stood the test of critical testing, openly conducted. Above all, for the physician the patient is a human being, entitled to our compassion, dignity and respect.

Henrik H. Bendixen, M.D.
Vice President for Health Sciences and Dean of the Faculty of Medicine

Henrik H. Bendixen, M.D.

Associate Dean for Student Affairs

These are the professions from whence you came: poet, photographer, laboratory technician, businesswoman, championship rower, artist, nutritionist, pianist, high school teacher-founder, ordained sister, brother and theologian, birdwatcher, computer programmer, paratrooper, physician's assistant, tin mill worker, rock guitarist, salmon packer, ballerina, sailor, museum director, baseball player, mountain climber and biochemist.

A new profession has been added. You have accomplished remarkable research and academic achievement, very well balanced with outstanding leadership on the national and local levels. In learning and leading you have grown and provided health care internationally as you have traveled to all continents and from the Arctic to Antarctica.

I congratulate you on your many achievements and I encourage you to continue your wide variety of interests, and I have enjoyed our short sojourn as I have watched you become Physicians and Surgeons.

THE HIPPOCRATIC OATH

"You do solemnly swear, by whatever each of you holds most sacred

That you will be loyal to the Profession of Medicine and just and generous to its members

That you will lead your lives and practice your art in uprightness and honor

That into whatsoever house you enter, it shall be for the good of the sick to the utmost of your power, your holding yourselves far aloof from wrong, from corruption, from tempting of others to vice

That you will exercise your art solely for the cure of your patients, and will give no drug, perform no operations, for a criminal purpose, even if solicited, far less suggest it that whatsoever you shall see or hear of the lives of your patients which is not fitting to be spoken, you will keep inviolably secret

These things you do swear. Let each of you bow the head in sign of acquiescence

And now, if you will be true to this, your oath, may prosperity and good repute be ever yours; the opposite, if you shall prove yourselves forsworn."

ADMISSIONS OFFICE

630 West 168th Street

I am happy to inform you that you have been admitted to the next entering class of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, which is to be enrolled in September of 1983. You have survived as arduous a selection process as we have ever experienced and we are pleased to have this opportunity to welcome you to student membership in the medical profession.

You will find information about the probable costs of your first year here enclosed, as well as a description of our financial aid policies and a questionnaire which will be used to help us to determine the extent of your need for financial aid. If you intend to apply for such aid, please send off the completed questionnaire as promptly as possible. If you decide to accept our offer of admission, no fee will be required to ensure your place in our next class. You will receive subsequently information about our orientation and enrollment schedule. If you decide subsequently to enroll elsewhere, the Committee on Admissions requests that you inform us of your change in plans as soon as you can.

The Committee also requests that you respond to our offer of admission by . For your convenience, an envelope has been enclosed. If we do not receive your reply by that time, we will assume that you do not intend to enroll.

Because our Committee on Admissions has formed so high a regard for your potential contributions as a physician, I hope that your reply will be favorable. In any event and regardless of where you ultimately enroll, please regard this offer of admission as an expression of our pleasure at having met someone so well suited to the medical profession.

Sincerely,

Andrew G. Frantz, M.D.
Chairman, Committee on Admissions

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE CLASS OF 1987

Now that you're starting out in your medical career, you'll be spending so much time examining the health of others, you may not have time to examine the state of your own finances. So while you're helping your patients keep physically fit, our goal is to keep you fiscally fit.

As a student, you've had the benefits of Chemical's free checking and a ChemBankcard. As a recent graduate, you're also invited to take advantage of Chemical's free financial counseling as well as financial planning seminars specially designed for health care professionals.

It's Chemical's way of not only wishing you career success, but of ensuring your financial success, too.

Graduate Medical Education at Overlook Hospital

A major teaching affiliate of the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons

Overlook, known for its progressive leadership and sound medical practice, is considered one of the nation's foremost community hospitals.

A voluntary, non-profit health care center, Overlook provides extensive modern facilities, including 551 beds and 50 bassinets. More than 2,600 employees and a medical staff of 550 offer a broad spectrum of educational and medical-surgical services.

At Overlook, quality patient care has been a tradition for more than 75 years. We emphasize the training of primary physicians. Approved residency programs are offered in: Dentistry; Diagnostic Radiology; Family Practice; Internal Medicine, Pediatrics; and a Transitional First Year.

Overlook also offers affiliated programs with Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center and St Vincent's Hospital and Medical Center, New York City, in General Surgery, Urology and Obstetrics-Gynecology. Program directors are outstanding physicians, all Board-certified specialists in their respective fields.

At Overlook the administrative and medical staff constantly evaluate new concepts in the delivery of health care, never losing sight of the individual, human needs of the patient and the family. It is this commitment to excellence in family-centered care that has earned Overlook its outstanding reputation.

For information about residency programs at Overlook, contact the Department of Medical Education,
